“ Marion and I worked together for many years at Berkshire Farm Center. I always admired her professional skill, sense of humor, and her ability to connect with troubled teenage boys. She also coped with her health challenges with tenacity, humor, and resilience. Many mornings she came to work after uncomfortable courses of treatment and was able to work at the highest professional level. She was always trusted colleague and I will miss her.

“ This is such sad news. Marion and I knew each other from grammar school. Even though we didn't see each other much - she was a competitive Words With Friends player and we had several games going at once - for years. Just recently, we were able to reconnect on video chat with a bunch of old friends. Marion faced every challenge with smarts, courage and a tremendous sense of humor. Her resiliency was admired by everyone who knew her. She had a totally kick-ass personality - nothing seemed to stop her. In a way, her passing is a shock. I thought she'd live forever. Rest easy, good friend. You know you were loved.

“ She was a bright, compassionate, caring and funny light that shined for all to see. The world was a better place for having her in it; she left an indelible mark and will always be remembered for her strength, wit and heart. Love you Uncle Bruce and Jenny!
