“ *Cheri and family,
May you find comfort during these trying times. Let your heart heal knowing that your dad lived a great happy life. He will be missed but also remembered and not forgotten. Remembering all the times growing up having fun vacations, camping and just hanging out. Oh the great memories. RIP Mac. ❤️🙏❤️*

“ Cherrie and Mel please accept my condolences. Mac treated me like a grandson taking me hunting, fishing and around town on errands driving slow to the annoyance of those around him and whistling old songs as we went. His bumper sticker read "I may be slow but I am ahead of you" and people would yell out "I am ahead of you now buddy" as they passed. He would chuckle at how fast the rest of the world wanted to be. I remember watching him make his homemade Italian style pizza and homemade pesto and listening to him play Christmas Songs on the harmonica on Christmas Eve. I used to see him from to time as an adult and I knew he was proud to see what I became. He always had a big smile when he spoke of you Cherrie. My best to the both of you.
