The Red Sox are playing good baseball We will need all Divine help we can get have you and your Mother talk with your boss on behalf of the Sox. Two events this week need to be mentioned. Your memorial stone is in place and its beautiful I am so proud its done and marks the place where a Queen rests. Also today marks the first day of the new season that anyone can leave flowers plants etc. I will take care of the flowers so that they last the season feel free to stop and see the beautiful stone in her honor. “ God saw you getting tired , and a cure was not meant to be.
So he put His arms around you and He whispered "Come To Me"
With tearful eyes we watched you.
We watched you fade away.
Although we loved you dearly , we could not make you stay.
A golden heart stopped beating. Hard working hands at rest.
God broke our hearts to prove to us, He chose to take the best.
It's lonesome here without you, we miss you more each day.
Life doesn't seem the same since you've gone away.....

I miss your smile, your face, your laugh and just talking with you... I miss the little things... Thinking of you Marilyn is just so easy, I do it everyday... Missing you is the heartache that will never go away... It just shows how much you have meant to me and will always mean forever... The mark that you have left on us all can never be replaced...love you forever...xoxoxo

“ As we near the memory of your leaving us all behind we continue to pray for your grace and love to help move us forward as much as possible, There will always be pain as the love held for you will never burn out. We must try to move somewhat forward as " Time moves forward and you should move with it " Easier said than done but true. Its difficult for me right now to visit this sight, and may well always be. THANKS to the founder of this sight the gesture comes from a beautiful heart. You should know that the 13th. of this month your girls will be supporting or leaning on each other with a night doing some art painting work I am sure in memory of your beautiful life. We are not doing to bad, and the support shown me by all makes be very proud of our children. I cannot forget the love directed to me from your sister Ruth and her husband Frank they go beyond any discription I am aware off. You are the topic on facebook that I do not have but am made aware visit her there as well as here. Not sure when I will visit this sight again as its beyond painful for me. Why you are not here is hard to understand. Until we all meet again love you all. I am not a man of short words sorry.

“ Marilyn I have had to avoid this beautiful spot because when visiting you here and reading other entries the grief was to much to handle. I had to try to find a safety zone so I could heal some and help other,s. I am going to try to visit more at this sight. I go daily to the Country Club (My new name for your burial place) so you get filled in on life,s going on,s in the family. You have the foundation for the monument and the cement has been poured. Dear Son inlaw D.V. will do the stone with help from Richie. The stone will reflect as much of the family members in little way,s as much as possible. All one needs to do is search and should see what I am trying to do. This family love,s you so much and to say the least misses you beyond what words can present. You, your Mother, and Grandson ,should by know have heaven all in order keep the good work up.

“ *Death is nothing at all.
It does not count.
I have only slipped away into the next room.
Nothing has happened.*

*Everything remains exactly as it was.
I am I, and you are you,
and the old life that we lived so fondly together is untouched, unchanged.
Whatever we were to each other, that we are still.*

*Call me by the old familiar name.
Speak of me in the easy way which you always used.
Put no difference into your tone.
Wear no forced air of solemnity or sorrow.*

*Laugh as we always laughed at the little jokes that we enjoyed together.
Play, smile, think of me, pray for me.
Let my name be ever the household word that it always was.
Let it be spoken without an effort, without the ghost of a shadow upon it.*

*Life means all that it ever meant.
It is the same as it ever was.
There is absolute and unbroken continuity.
What is this death but a negligible accident?*

*Why should I be out of mind because I am out of sight?
I am but waiting for you, for an interval,
somewhere very near,
just round the corner.*

*All is well.
Nothing is hurt; nothing is lost.
One brief moment and all will be as it was before.*

How we shall laugh at the trouble of parting when we meet again!

“ Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies.
Strength and honor are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come.
She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness.
She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness.
Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.
Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all.
Favor is deceitful, and beauty is vain: but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.
Give her the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates.

I have considered you a very close friend for a long time now. You're my buddy and a genuinely good soul. Most weekday mornings we shared coffee and some fun conversation. You were always very insisting on paying me back for every coffee, though I did not expect or want you to do that. You were always very friendly and quick with your inviting smile. I think of you often and I think I always will. You loved your family as you spoke of them often and shared stories about them. You have a big heart & very generous with everyone. In addition, you're crazy about my daughter. Of course that means everything to me. That is how I will remember you. I'll miss you my buddy.

“ Dear Paul and family, for once in my life, I am at a loss for words. I saw Marilyn often during my (too many) trips for physical therapy and she always had a big smile and a quick wit as we shared stories and small jokes, usually at Paul's expense. I always looked forward to therapy because I knew Marilyn would be ready to give me an update on "Mr Retired" and share some funny story. She will be deeply missed. I hope the support and love of family and your many friends can help carry you through the days ahead and that the memories of Marilyn and the many people she touched support you going forward. Our thoughts and prayers are with you.

“ As I sat in your darkened hospital room, keeping silent vigil over you in the wee hours of the morning, I wondered - did you do this so long ago, when I was a baby? Did you keep watch over me in the night, listening to me breathe? Did you hold your own breath if my breathing changed, listening intently in the silence until I resumed the quiet, deep breaths of sleep? When I stirred, did you come to my bedside to check on me? Did you stand there in the dark, hand on me, quieting me and reassuring me with your touch? Of all of these, I have no doubt. During those nights, our roles reversed - the daughter became the watchful mother, and the mother the sleeping infant. I will always treasure those terrible, sleepless, infinitely precious moments.

What I would give to hear you breathe one more time...

“ I didn't know Marilyn for very long, but each and every time I showed up at my physical therapy appointment for the last several months she was there to greet me with a smile. She was one of those people that I liked and bonded with instantly. She made my end of the day PT appointments more enjoyable because I got to chat with her while I waited. I was so heartbroken to hear what happened and will really miss her. My heart goes out to her family. May your happy memories bring you peace.

“ To everyone in Marilyn's family, but especially Paul, Darlene and Frank:

David and I are so saddened to read of your loss.

Personally, I will always remember Marilyn with that wonderful, warm smile on her beautiful face. She made me feel like I had known her for years because she was so easy to talk to.

It was also always fun, whenever we ran into one another at Stop & Shop, to compare notes about our husbands and their shopping habits! Needless to say, we always had a good laugh.

Although we're away from home right now, please know that our thoughts are with all of you.

Fondly, Sandra Zink

“ Mom, it's so difficult to believe you have passed on from this world. I will miss your smile, your laugh, your hugs, your silliness, and your love. The world has been diminished by your loss.

I love you, I will miss you, but I also know that I will see you again.
