“ Oh So many memories. You and my brother were thick as thieves. One memory sticks out the most that's my first time meeting you at Springside park. You were playing ice hockey with a group of kids from around town. Some knew you others didn't. The ones who didn't know you doubted if you could play the game. Boy you showed them who owned the puck. It was goal after goal for your team. A lot laughs my friend. You will be missed terribly
