“ I just read about Vince... I can't believe it. I drove cross country with Vince and our friend Michael in Vince's pick-up truck when they moved to SanFrancisco. On that trip we became great friends (though I'm sorry to say we fell out of touch as the years passed). He knew all the words to all the Indigo Girls songs, too! I went out for his and Bob's wedding and my present to them was photographing the wedding, where I got to meet all of his wonderful siblings and mom, who walked him down the aisle. I don't think I'll be able to make it to the funeral tomorrow but I'd really love to be there. If anyone has any more information, please let me know.

“ Vince,
You are loved by so many because you touched the lives of so many. We knew you through your thespian skills. You made the world more beautiful because of your love and respect for what is given to us on this earth.
We will always remember your smile and your kind words.
We will miss you.

“ For Vincent's family,

I can not say we were friends, or even that I knew him well. Only that we often sat next to each other at Saint Stephen's. But I do know that he cared deeply about his family and bringing "our boys back from Afghanistan". And I do know, that even on those brief occasions, he touched his life to mine. And isn't that what life is all about? With sorrow and fond memories,
