“ I am very sorry to hear about Bill, he worked for me many years ago doing IT Support and I smiled thinking of our many shared memories about cars of our youth. You have my deepest sympathies

“ So true Mike Mazzeo & Paul Del Gallo. Bikes, skateboards, sleds in the winter, there was always a ramp or jump involved. Bill always had a project in the works, a go-cart or a detailed model to assemble. The neighborhood gang would meet in the Hatch's back yard after dinner to watch Bill launch a rocket into the air, trying to make each new one go higher than the last. We'd play games until dark, then have a fire and listen to Steve Miller Band. You never forget the kids you grew up with. Godspeed Bill, may you rest in peace.

“ Bill was a close childhood friend of mine too and I have many fond memories of our escapades together. We had a difficult time keeping our minds on schoolwork and would often be passing notes that mostly consisted of drawings of rocket ships and homemade fireworks and the like. On typical summer days we could be found at the GE sand pits making campfires, wading in the pond to catch frogs, turning over boards & logs to find snakes, and sinking plastic model battleships with BB guns and firecrackers. I was always amazed at Bill's interest & knowledge of all things military, it was extensive to say the least. Growing up we drifted apart, going our respective ways as many people do, but we'd run into one another once in awhile and say hello. I am having difficulty accepting that those meetings won't be happening again. I'm going to miss you Bill...So long buddy.

“ Bill was my best friend when we were little. I will always remember spending our youth, fishing in ponds, riding bikes, and being boys.
